

More consolidation is anathema to the needs of democracy. Corporate accountability and ethics are rightfully a major concern of most citizens today; the erosion of responsiveness to the diversity of the U.S. population can best be slowed by not encouraging "more of the same" to occur. The FCC's mandate to protect the interests of the ENTIRE public in ALL its needs includes but extends well beyond how will sports be broadcast.